A hallmark of a rail vacation across the U.S. is travel along the country’s most storied rail routes aboard Amtrak’s legendary long-distance trains like the California Zephyr from Chicago to Emeryville/San Francisco, the Empire Builder from Chicago to Seattle, and the Southwest Chief from Chicago to Los Angeles. The beauty of a rail vacation is it begins the moment you step aboard the train as you settle into your comfortable accommodations and leave the driving to someone else.

Select from three accommodation levels that best suit your travel needs:

Coach accommodations include spacious reclining seating with leg rests, fold-down trays, and individual reading lights.

Roomette accommodations are cozy cabins ideal for 1-2 passengers. Daytime configuration features two reclining seats aside a picture window, which convert to upper and lower berths at night. Compartment dimensions: 3’6” x 6’6”

Bedroom accommodations are ideal for 2 passengers. During the day travelers enjoy a large sofa and one reclining chair next to their picture window; night-time configuration features an upper and lower berth. Bedrooms include a private self-enclosed restroom with toilet, sink, and shower. Compartment dimensions: 6’6” x 7’6”

A limited number of family bedrooms and accessible bedrooms are also available.

Enjoy a hot meal in the Dining car or grab a snack at the Café, located in the lower level of the Sightseer Lounge, a glass-walled observation car ideal for viewing the passing scenery and chatting with travelers from all corners of the world.

While Amtrak is America’s national rail network, our train vacations feature excursions aboard other trains that are just as historic including vintage private rail cars and scenic tourist trains like the Grand Canyon Railway, Colorado’s Durango & Silverton Narrow Gauge Railway, and New England’s Cape Cod Scenic Railroad.

Discover the Canadian Rockies by rail aboard Canada’s all-daylight touring train, the Rocky Mountaineer! Considered one of the world’s great rail journeys, this premier train travels five train routes: Vancouver to Banff, Vancouver to Jasper via Kamloops, Vancouver to Jasper via Quesnel, Vancouver to Whistler, and—new in 2013!—the Coastal Passage from Seattle to Vancouver and Banff.

Immerse yourself in awe-inspiring beauty as you travel the historic paths of 19th century explorers, winding through the wilderness, valleys, and alpine towns of Western Canada by train. From the towering peaks of the Coast and Rocky Mountain ranges to the rushing rivers of the Bow and Fraser Rivers, stunning vistas and close-enough-to-touch scenery are picturesque backdrops of an independent vacation filled with inclusive amenities and must-see destinations.

Select from three classes of service:

GoldLeaf bi-level dome coach
- Features reserved seating in a bi-level glass-domed coach featuring panoramic views on the upper level and an elegant private dining room serving gourmet meals for breakfast and lunch on the lower level.

GoldLeaf dining room
- The newest class of service includes a single-level dome coach offering panoramic views, and hot meal service at your assigned seat.

RedLeaf Service
- Features assigned seating in a comfortable reclining seat beside a large picture window and at-your-seat boxed meal service in a traditional rail coach environment.

Overnight accommodations for all classes of service are in popular hotels in each destination, and sightseeing tours include must-do activities in each destination.

The very best way to see Canada and connect the country’s bustling cities and small towns is on VIA Rail Canada’s extensive train network, criss-crossing the provinces from coast to coast. Perhaps the most famous of VIA Rail’s trains—and one of the most popular among our vacation collection—is the 1950’s era Canadian, providing overnight rail service between Vancouver and Toronto. Sleeper Plus class accommodations range from semi-private berths to private cabins with an average size between 6’5” x 4’5” and 7’3” x 5’. Onboard amenities include all meals in the Dining car as well as access to the Skyline and Park cars where you can enjoy a new perspective on the passing scenery and meet your fellow travelers.

Vacations to Atlantic Canada transport travelers east aboard VIA Rail’s Ocean train, providing overnight service from Montreal to Halifax. Sleeper Plus class accommodations feature private cabins and during the busy tourist season include dining and observation car amenities as well as an onboard learning coordinator sharing the history of the region.

Shorter distances consist of daytime travel along VIA Rail’s Corridor service between Toronto, and Montreal and the Jasper-Prince Rupert train (formerly the Skeena) between Jasper, Prince George and Prince Rupert. Each train offers travelers comfortable seats beside picture windows—and, of course, landscapes like you have never seen before!

Europe’s rail network is vast, spanning virtually every European country and offering a variety of experiences to match. Vacations By Rail’s collection of independent and escorted train vacations in Europe connect enigmatic cities by premier high-speed trains like the Eurostar between London and Paris, the Thalys between Paris and Brussels, and the TGV from Paris to the Riviera. And let’s not forget InterCity and scenic specialty trains like Switzerland’s Glacier Express, which are ideal for drinking in the stunning beauty, historic sites and quintessential aspects of any given country.

While these trains are sleek and provide an exceptional rail experience, nothing recalls the golden era of train travel like an opulent journey aboard Europe’s luxury trains like the Royal Scotsman, the Venice Simplon-Orient Express, the Danube Express, and the Golden Eagle Trans Siberian Express. Each offers a once-in-a-lifetime touring experience for an exclusive number of guests.
